NEW ROHL KITCHEN SINK MAXIMIZES COUNTERTOPS

ROHL Allia Kitchen Collection: 6337 Under-mount Fireclay Sink

Granite. Solid surface. Marble. Slate. Concrete. Ceramic. Lava stone. No matter what traditional or exotic kitchen countertop is selected, ROHL helps to maximize the beauty of the visible surface area and create an authentic designer look with the new Allia 6337 double bowl fireclay sink featuring a cutout for countertop mounted faucets. This distinctively-shaped sink integrates with the worktop for a seamless aesthetic presentation.

Plumbing contractors, builders and installers love the contoured shape of this “true under-mount” as well! The cutout simplifies installation and eliminates the need for extra drilling through both the countertop and the sink deck. No faucet extensions are needed.

Precision crafted in Limoges, France exclusively for ROHL, the 6337 is a companion to the established 6317 and 6327 fixtures (with an integrated three-hole or four-hole faucet deck). All are asymmetric double bowl sinks with an extra deep bowl design: 10" deep large bowl and 8" deep small bowl. Outside dimensions are a standard 33" x 22". Crafted of fireclay and fired at 2,264°F, the construction is strong, durable, thermal/shock resistant and designed to last a lifetime. Pristine luminescent finishes repel scratches and stains for a vibrant finish that lasts. Homeowners can select from white or pergame (biscuit) finishes.
